

General Information	The man-faced stink bug is native to Asia, Africa, and Australia.
Key Word(s)	man-faced, stink bug, reminds
Pun	No pun exists. The man-faced stink bug is named for the markings on its back that resemble a man's face and its foul odor it emits for self defense. Bjorn Corn is suggesting that the face on the bug's back and the bug's stench are similar to his uncle's face and stench.